

Michael Gershe's The Magic of Life is an incredible and inspirational life-changing event that shares a son's story of how a tragic drunken driving incident killed his mother and almost himself when he was barely 8 weeks old impacted his life. Combining stand-up comedy, audience participation, and his unique style, The Magic of Life is not only an alcohol awareness program, but also a program that will inspire people to pursue their dreams.

Having been called, "one of the most touching and inspirational speakers I've had the pleasure to hear", Michael presents a story that is geared to any audience. Despite breaking nearly every bone in his body in the incident, Michael was a collegiate swimmer, is a professional stand-up comedian, and has spent over 12 years in Higher Education. Michael tackles issues facing students such as peer pressure, binge drinking, and drunken driving.
